Here is what Peter Cooper, who died worth many millions, said of Newspaper Advertising:

"In all the towns where a newspaper is published every man should advertise in it, if nothing more than his card stating his name and the business he is engaged in. It does not only pay the advertiser, but lets people at a distance know that the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men. As the seed is sown so the seed re-compensates. Never pull down your sign while you expect to do business."

The editor of the Public Ledger will please observe that the World's Fair will be closed hereafter on Sunday.

If you are a good swimmer be satisfied and don't be making exhibitions of yourself. Two men found a watery grave last week while swimming the Ohio.

Those Lexington citizens who lose heavily by the failure of the Kansas City National Bank are now regretting that they didn't invest their money at home. It would have been better undoubtedly for them as well as for their city.

Now is the time for the Republicans to come to the rescue of the wheat growers with that "home market" the G. O. P. leaders once talked so much about.—EVENING BULLETIN.

All right, sonny, the "home market" is here all the same. In fact, it has gotten to be such a "home" "home market" that many farmers are turning their hogs in on their wheat. Your "good Democratic good times" have so destroyed confidence that money is not get-at-able, and wheat has been reduced to the lowest price ever known in this country. What a boon your Democratic administration has been to the farmers, to be sure!—Public Ledger.

Your memory's not very good, old man. Didn't you say a few weeks ago that the tariff had brought down the price of wheat and flour? Now you are singing a different song. What next?

Electric Locomotive.

The first electric locomotive of any considerable size in the United States, and the first practically operative high-speed electric locomotive in the world adapted to the steam railroad, has recently been completed at the Lynn works of the General Electric Company, and will shortly be exhibited at the World's Fair. It is a thirty-ton locomotive, designed for a normal speed of thirty miles an hour.

EXPLOSION OF FIREWORKS.

Four Men Killed and Half a Dozen Others Injured.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Four persons were killed and seven injured by an explosion of fireworks yesterday evening at Fifty-ninth street at Ashland avenue. The explosion took place in a small park where an Italian picnic was being held. During the display of fireworks which was a part of the program, a premature explosion occurred, caused, it is supposed, by the carelessness of the men in charge of the display.

The entire supply of fireworks became ignited, scattering the burning powder in every direction. Two of the men in charge of the fireworks were instantly killed, and two of the spectators were fatally injured. Half a dozen others were badly burned.

The dead, so far as can be learned, are: Michael Snow, Richard Marshall, Tony Ladonle and Andrew Jorino.

SUMMER HOTEL BURNED.

Only a Few Guests in the House and All Escape.

MOUNT WASHINGTON, N. H., July 17.—A fire occurred last night in the Glen House, owned by Charles E. Miliken. The fire spread with great rapidity and within an hour the large structure was in complete ruins. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Glen was built in the early part of 1885, to take the place of the old house which was burned on the night of Oct. 1, of the previous year. It was the latest built summer house in the White Mountains, and was provided with modern improvements. It would accommodate about 300 guests, and, including the furniture it cost fully $100,000. There were only about 25 guests in the house.

FIGHT WITH MEXICANS.

Bullets Exchanged Between a Sheriff's Posse and Horse Thieves.

FLORESVILLE, Tex., July 17.—This town has been considerably excited over news from Sour Springs to the effect that Balgir Baylor of that place had run across a camp of Mexicans in the Cibola bottom. He notified Deputy Sheriff Heacock and five other citizens and returned to arrest the Mexicans.

The posse separated and as Baylor and his party rode up, the Mexicans fired upon them. The fire was returned and one Mexican was believed to be shot as he fell. The Mexicans fled leaving behind them a Winchester, a hat, four saddles and seven horses. They are believed to be a gang of horse thieves.

SWITCHMAN BLAMED.

Coroner's Jury Report on the Cause of a Railroad Accident.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., July 17.—The coroner's jury in the West Shore disaster returned a verdict finding that the cause of the accident was an open switch, left open through the carelessness or neglect of Michael Donahue, who had charge of the switch.

The jury also censures the officials of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, lessees of the West Shore railroad, for not employing competent men for holding such responsible positions. Recorder McCroskey has committed Donahue for preliminary examination. Five persons were killed in the wreck.

Farmer and Son Both Drowned.

DETROIT, July 18.—A drowning accident occurred at the north end of Belle Isle, which resulted in the death of John Vick, aged 40, and his son Walter, aged 20. Young Vick got beyond his depth and being unable to swim had gone down twice when his father plunged into rescue him. The latter reached him just as he was going down again, but the boy clasped his father around his arms, rendering him helpless, and both were drowned.

The Pressure Too Great.

GALLATIN, Mo., July 17.—The Citizens' bank of Jamesport, this county, made an assignment Thursday night for the benefit of creditors. Its liabilities are about $45,000. The assignment is due to the present stress in money matters.

One Use of Mathematics.

In an offhand sketch of Professor Chrystal, one of his old pupils tells how this mathematician made his science aid him in the management of his class. The daring spirits—say those who were going into their father's office, and so did not look upon Chrystal as a door locked to their advancement—sought to bring sunshine into the room. Chrystal soon had the blind down on that.

To relieve the monotony, a student at the end of bench ten dropped a marble, which toppled slowly downward toward the professor. At every step it took there was a smothered guffaw, but Chrystal, who was working at the board, did not turn his head. When the marble reached the floor he said, still with his back to the class:

"Will the student at the end of bench ten, who dropped that marble, stand up?" All eyes dilated. He had counted the falls of the marble from step to step.—Chicago Post.

He Knew Congressmen.

One of the late Leopold Morse's hobbies was the rehabilitation of the American navy, and his plan of proceeding was thoroughly characteristic. He insisted on the government giving out all its shipbuilding to contractors instead of attempting to do any in its own yards. "Spread de work over de whole coast," he would say in his Bavarian dialect, "and you will haf efery congressman from a seaport district voting for your appropriations because bart of 'em vill go to his own people. In dat way you git a fullgrown navy in about t'ree years."—Kate Field's Washington.

They Cry For the Little Ones.

"Gimme the little old ones," is a request frequently heard now at the stamp window at the postoffices. The first novelty of the new stamps has gone by and people are willing to go on in the old way.—Boston Transcript.

A Character.

Grave, yet serene, he moves along.
Nor heeds the strife that round him sways;
Alone amid the crowd he stands,
And serenity gleams from his eyes.
"So noble that he cannot see."
He stands in aught above the rest,
But wears his greatness carelessly.
And bears a lily as his crest.
Clear searching eyes that see through all,
A smile imprisoned in their wells,
Which ever and anon breaks forth,
Like sudden gleams from hidden dells.
A tenderness of thought and act;
A brow of intellect and power;
A bearing that makes men respect,
And all things evil shrink and cower.
A patience rare and absolute;
An utter love of what is true;
A glance that sweeps the stars in heaven,
Yet notes a flower's faintest hue.

A Veteran Returns His Pension.

Joseph E. Clarke, an old Union soldier of Baltimore, has astonished the members of his Grand Army post and other friends by surrendering his pension of $12 a month to the Government. His disability was in the leg. He had been suffering since the war. A serious surgical operation a week ago removed the trouble, and Thursday Mr. Clarke sent a letter to the Commissioner of Pensions returning his voucher and declining to accept any more money from the Government.

For the Farmer.

Broshear brothers, of Charleston Bottom, are cultivating ten acres of tomatoes for the Ripley Canning Factory, for which they are to receive 33½ cents a bushel.

Clover is the great restorer of the soil. An analysis of the roots and of second-growth tops shows that there exists in the soil, to the depth of nine inches, enough nitrogen, potash and phosphoric acid to equal that found in fertilizers which costs $20 per acre for application.
